

ABSTRACT

FLVS is in need of providing the most up to date courses using materials, but there is a cost to these and they have to limit these resources for external clients. The setting of this NA is within Florida Virtual School Curriculum Services. The direct contact is Heather Theobald. If you define FLVS as the "system", then the output of the system are the courses. The classification of the problem is then an output problem: Lack of up-to-date courses for external clients. This NA will look at possible solutions to solve the problem.
