

The Counselor Connection

MARCH 2022

This month's character trait: COOPERATION

So, What is It?

Cooperation means working together to achieve a common goal.

Why is it Important?

Cooperation is an important character trait because by working with others, we learn different perspectives and strategies, and can express our own to teach others. It can also help to reach a goal much faster with someone than if we were working alone!

How can you Show Cooperation?

- I can put away the laundry that my sibling folds.
- I can water the plants while my parent mows the lawn.

- I can take turns on the swings at the park with a friend.
- I can bring in the groceries with a family member.
- I can play a competitive sport.
- I can teach a younger sibling or family member how to do something.
- I can wait until it's my turn to speak during class time.
- I can clear the table after a meal while my parent does the dishes.
- I can work with a sibling to make a birthday card for a family member.
- I can take turns reading pages in a book with a grandparent.
- I can do my fair share on a group project.
- I can agree to take turns choosing a movie for movie night.

Torn Between
 I want to work in the zoo
 And meet a kangaroo.
 But when my day is through,
 I'll make a cake for you!
 I'm torn between my careers,
 Hopefully my destiny will soon appear!

My name is Charlie B
 An EMT is the career for me
 Driving with my bro
 To my nurse sister we will go
 Racing safe, but fast
 All the cars we will pass
 To the children's hospital we will go
 So the kids can get home and grow.

The Pastry Chef
Written by Chara, 5th grade

When I grow up
I want to be a pastry chef
Creating pastries to look their best

Butter makes everything nice
Add cinnamon for a little spice
Piping flowers for my favorite sponge cake
Put it in the oven and don't let it overbake

Graduating from a celebrated school
In my black chef coat that looks very cool
I can see myself in my pastry hat
Making a treasure chest cake for a famous chef

Work Hard to be a Hero
By Daniella, 5th grade

When people hear the word hero, they think of someone with super powers
But I see regular people with no powers that help the world every hour.
That is why I want to be a doctor, day to night
I hope to always do what's right!
I want to cure the weak and sick
No matter how long no matter how quick
I also want to be a singer to inspire people with my songs
To make people happy all day long
To cheer people up when they are feeling bad
To let people know there is no need to be sad
But wait, how can I accomplish what I want to do?
I can accomplish it by working hard and I know so can you
Take a break from watching TV all day Spend a bit of extra time working, you can accomplish your dream no matter what people say.
So if I work hard enough, my dream will come true
And I know it can happen to you too!

FLVS Flex has a very special entrepreneur, Makayla. She is a 5th grade student who creates her own slime and sells it as her own business on Etsy! How amazing is that?!

"I would like to be a nurse
because I want to help people like my grandma who need a little extra care!
